

HISTORIC MARKDALE

Tuesday 5 April 2022

An absolute gardener's delight! The Markdale property, rich in history and charm, features an incredible five-acre award-winning Edna Walling Garden and rambling homestead. It was in the late 1940s and early when two of Australia's most revered designers, architect Professor Leslie Wilkinson and landscape designer Edna Walling, were commissioned to create the magical haven that it is today. Over the years Markdale has been featured in many books and publications and is known as one of Australia's great country gardens. As well as being a property with great historical value, Markdale is renowned for its international association with the game of polo and agricultural merits. Today the property continues to be a fully operational sheep station with over 8,500 fine merino sheep over 6,300 acres. We will also enjoy a morning stop in Crookwell before our late morning arrival at Markdale for a tour, lunch, and time to enjoy the award-winning gardens.
